

Injectables Lidicaine

New wrinkle treatments with local numbing built in

Most of us are fairly familiar these days with the idea of smoothing out facial lines with either muscle relaxing injections or fillers which are injected under the skin to plump up the lines. The combination of both treatments usually takes years off our appearance.

Up until now, while there was minimal discomfort, the idea of injection discomfort put some people off ever trying it. We are thrilled with the latest advancement in line fillers because they have a local anaesthetic built in. No more nerve blocks or separate local numbing, and no more worry about discomfort.

Filling lines and furrows around the mouth area, and lip plumping is now not only affordable and lasts up to 18 months, but also discomfort free.

It is so simple. It takes 30 minutes for either treatment with minimal tell-tale evidence so you can return to usual activities immediately.

So book a free consultation with one of our qualified nurse injectors at Medici who will explain the different products and how they will work for you.
