

Look Great Feel Great

Cosmetic surgery is about you being who you want to be looking like you want to look and living the life you want to live.

Whether we like it or not we live in a world where image is so important. How we look sends important messages to everyone we meet. How we feel sends an equally important message.

In fact, did you know that how we feel about ourselves is the single most important message we communicate to our loved ones, our closest friends, our business colleagues and, most importantly, ourselves? We all know the old adage - we can only love others as much as we love ourselves.

And feeling great about how we look is a significant step toward loving ourselves. How many times have you heard 'happiness is on the inside', 'we should accept and love ourselves as we are', 'internal beauty is more important than external beauty' and so on. And that's great for those who are happy living that way.

The Medici philosophy is 'change the things you can and accept the things you cannot', then be happy. And with cosmetic surgery you can alter your appearance, and, as long as your expectations are realistic, you can positively enhance your happiness on the inside.

"Whether the surgical change is small or large, patients feel so much happier about themselves that they are overjoyed with increased confidence." Medici specializes in cosmetic surgery – necklifts, eyelifts, mini-facelifts, breast implants, breast reductions, tummy tucks, Mummy tummies, including body shape restoration following weight loss. Consultations with a Medici patient advisor are free at.

When it's about Cosmetic Surgery change, experience really does count. After 21 years associated with Cosmetic Surgery in Melbourne Dee Tozer is an expert in understanding what patients want. Her Medici team knows how much reliability and safety mean to you. Dee and her Medici team fully understand the cosmetic surgery journey you are on focussing on you achieving your goal.
